I Love Dogs

This is my dog Buddha he is an American Bulldog x American Staffy. In some countrys he is listed as a dangerous dog breed but that is far from the truth. Buddha is one of the most well natured and well behaved dogs that I have ever been around, he definatly takes after his name and from this photo you can tell he is one happy chappy. I want to discuss this stigma of dangerous dogs in more detail so today I ask the question.. Is there such a thing as aggressive dog breeds or just aggressive owners?

Health, Fitness & Money

Do you really need a gym to stay in shape.. In todays economy with rising inflation rates and the price of everyday items literally skyrocketing, I'm asking the hard hitting question do you really need to fork out your hard earned money every week to stay in shape? Today I will share ways to stay fit, healthy and even build muscle from home so you can hold onto your precious hard earned money and still reach those fitness goals in time for summer.

Today I am going to be talking about interactive learning through apps such as Brilliant all though there are many others that are also great. Personally I have found interactive app/web based learning to be alot of fun and easy to digest. Its a perfect combination of practical hands on and visual learning.
